R. SECORD returned from a visit to Ontario on Monday's stage, accompanied by his brother John Secord. Times are good in Ontario. Crops and prices are both fair.

CHICKENS and partridges are numerous in the immediate vicinity of town as well as further away. On Wednesday two partridges were shot in the premises surrounding the BULLETIN office.

THE football match on Saturday of last week, Clover Bar vs. Edmonton, resulted in a draw. Play was by half hours and neither side won a goal; but it was a most interesting game nevertheless.

TRACKLAYING on the Calgary & Edmonton had reached Chamberlain's, 35 miles north of Calgary on Thursday of last week, when the stage passed and was being continued at the rate of two miles a day. JUDGE ROULEAU left for Calgary on Thursday afternoon.

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION.

The exhibition of yesterday was a most pleasing success, although the late harvest and general delay of farming operations no doubt kept it far below the standard which it otherwise would have attained. The weather could not have been more favorable, as the day was clear and warm and there was nothing of a threatening nature for the previous week. The number of spectators was not as large as it has been although the turn out was fair, but the number of entries of exhibits was greater than at any of the eight previous exhibitions of the Edmonton agricultural society.

The show of horses, particularly of young stallions, was very good; showing that due attention is being paid to the improvement of the most valuable class of farm stock. The show of cattle was also very good, though the exhibits were not numerous, and showed creditable improvement. Sheep and pigs did not show up as strongly, which would seem to indicate that as much attention is not being paid to these classes of farm stock as to horses and cattle. There was a fair exhibit of well bred poultry of the leading varieties. A Leghorn hen gave proof of the egg producing qualities of that variety by laying a sample egg while on exhibition. There were three coops of excellent turkeys, but ducks and geese were not represented.

The show of grain was ridiculously small, owing to threshing operations having made but little progress yet. M. Groat showed an excellent sample of Ladoga wheat. J. R. Brenton showed a sample of Triumph wheat, sowed on April 29th and cut on September 2nd. There were several samples of good oats exhibited, but no barley. R. Kelly of the Sturgeon showed an excellent sample of crown peas and D. Ross of Edmonton a fine sample of very large peas. This is a crop which has received too little attention in the past. It would add greatly to the wealth of the country if it could be made a success.

If the show of grain was small that of vegetables was great in size, quality and fair in quantity. A drumhead cabbage girthed 4 ft. and a red cabbage 2 ft 9 inches. An Aberdeen turnip girthed 3 ft 8 inches and weighed 36 1/2 lbs; a white turnip girthed 3 ft 3 inches and a swede 2 feet 10 inches. A white carrot girthed 11 inches and was 1 ft 6 inches long. Horn carrot girthed 10 inches. A white onion girthed 1 ft. A white Russian radish girthed 1 ft 3 inches and was 1 ft 7 inches long. A black Spanish radish girthed 11 inches and was 1 ft 4 inches long. Blood beet girthed 1 ft 9 inches. Bell potatoes, a new red variety grown by R. Kelly of the Sturgeon, girthed 1 ft 4 inches by 1 ft. and McLennan potatoes, a new white variety grown by M. McLeod of Belmont girthed 1 ft 6 1/2 in. by 11 inches. These potatoes were perfectly smooth. The old reliable early rose was very largely and well represented as well as other varieties. A plate of ripe tomatoes were exhibited but that kind of fruit is not Edmonton's strong point.

There was a good display of preserved native fruits and pickles and also of bread and butter the quality of which could not be excelled anywhere.

The display of ladies work, painting, etc. was good, though not as large perhaps as on former occasions.

There was only one house plant, a magnificent white rose exhibited by Mrs. Larue.

The prize list will be given next week. The silver cup presented by the Hudson's Bay Company was won for the year by J. C. C. Bremner of Clover Bar, who took the largest number of prize points, chiefly in horses.

A. S. CARTER, fruit dealer, of Calgary, took a number of samples of vegetables from the exhibition to be placed on show in Calgary.

A copy of the Glasgow Herald, handed to the BULLETIN by F. Adamson of Clover Bar, contains an editorial article on Manitoba's crops and prospects which cannot be too highly commended as a most comprehensive and correct view of the case. The article concludes as follows: A surplus available for export of 12 million bushels, which seems to be the lowest estimate that is made is an achievement of which a country with a population barely a sixth of that of Glasgow may well be proud. The result of this phenomenal harvest is inevitable. Even with the grain of salt added, it is sufficiently alluring to draw a largely augmented stream of settlers to the country. There is no harm in that. The Canadian prairie is as good a field for settlement as is open to the farmer anywhere. But phenomenal harvests are apt to raise phenomenal expectations, and in that case the disappointment is bound to be as phenomenal as the rest. Taking an average of its seasons, Manitoba has doubtless a rather better climate for farming purposes than we have at home, but its seasons are in every sense more extreme. The heat of summer is greater; the cold of winter is more severe; the failures are more dismal; the successes are more splendid. Putting one thing with another, the Manitobans seem to like their country; but let the new settler, after a year like this one, be quite sure that he has not lost sight of the failures.

THE ASSEMBLY.

The session of the Northwest assembly which will open on the 20th inst, will probably be more important than any that have preceded it. It is a necessary consequence of the growth of the Territories that an increased importance should be attached to each succeeding meeting of the local legislature, at least equal to the yearly growth of the country. The more people there are to use the roads the more necessary the careful expenditure of public money in their improvement and in other public works; the larger the number of schools the more necessary that the workings of the school ordinance should be closely watched; as villages grow into towns and settlements into municipalities the municipal ordinance requires more and more careful attention; and in every respect increased growth means increased labor and increased responsibility for the people's representatives. Unfortunately, necessarily increased labor and responsibility have not hitherto been accompanied by increased power. On the contrary as the necessity for increased power on the part of the assembly arose the desire to decrease the power already possessed by it seems to have been felt by the executive. The special importance of the coming session lies in the fact that the dispute as to the respective powers of the legislative and executive branches of the local government which arose at last session will have to be fought out at this session and a decision reached as to whether the territories have representative government or not. The assembly at its last session asserted the right of the representatives of the people to control the public funds. They could see but little use in passing ordinances if the funds which were required to give these ordinances effect were not under their control and could therefore be granted or withheld according as the executive was favorably or unfavorably disposed. The lieutenant governor through his control of the funds could make their most careful legislation inoperative. When the importance of the subject with which the assembly is at last nominally authorized to deal is considered—that is civil justice, education, municipal matters, local works, etc.,—and when it is considered how intimately all these matters concern the people of the Territories and how remotely they concern any one else, it will be seen how necessary it is that the people through their representative should not only have the right to say what ought to be done in these matters but should have the funds at command so that they might cause it to be done. In such a vast region as the Northwest with continually changing conditions new legislation on local subjects will be continually required and no doubt the coming session will have its share of this kind of work, but its main business should be to settle the question as to who shall control the public funds and upon whose advice the acts of the executive shall be based.

During the past year the lieutenant governor has chosen to consult four certain members of the assembly on executive matters. Either he consulted with them for the purpose of acting upon their advice or without intending to act upon it. If the former, inasmuch as the members with whom he consulted were not in accord with the assembly his action was a deliberate insult to the majority of that body and the people whom they represent. If he consulted these members merely as a matter of form because the statute required him to do so without intending to act on their advice, the action is an insult to the common sense of the whole country, and the members who permitted themselves to be so consulted are placed in a most uncomfortable light. Under representative institutions it is necessary that the laws passed should express the wish of the majority—as the ordinance passed by the Northwest assembly do. If these laws or ordinances are put in force by the lieutenant governor acting alone, there is fair room to suppose that the execution will be according to their expressed intent. But if the minority, who perhaps opposed their passage, are to be consulted in regard to their enforcement it cannot be expected that the wish of the majority will be carried out. Government by minority is something new in these latter days, and the experience of it during the past year in the Northwest does not indicate that it is likely to be more satisfactory now than ever before. It will be for the assembly during its coming session—its last before a general election—to take such a position on this question as shall make it a clear issue when the election occurs.

SUPREME COURT

Court opened on Monday morning for chamber proceedings.
Commercial Bank vs. Chas. Stewart and others. This action was tried at last court and related to the ownership of lot 1, block 1, river lot 14, Edmonton. Plaintiffs impeached the title of Chas. Stewart and Mrs. Bannerman to the lot, alleging that the conveyances to them were invalid against creditors of the firm of Stewart and Bannerman. Judgment was given for the defendants on the ground that at the time the conveyance was made the firm was solvent. R. Strachan for plaintiffs. C. L. Shaw for Mr. and Mrs. Stewart S. S. Taylor for Mr. and Mrs. Bannerman, and C. H. Connon for J. A. McDougall. Plaintiff's advocate instigated his intention to appeal.

On Monday afternoon prisoners in the criminal cases were arraigned.

On Tuesday the trial of the criminal cases was proceeded with:

Queen vs. Joseph Lennie.—The prisoner was charged with attempting to commit burglary on the store of W. Johnstone Walker. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the judge alone. From the evidence it appeared that about 4 a. m. on the morning of Sunday August 3rd the prisoner, a lad in his teens, attempted to raise a riar window of the store by using an axe. The window had been partly opened when he was interrupted by one of the crown witnesses. He was convicted of the felony of attempting to break into the premises, and was sentenced to two years imprisonment in Manitoba penitentiary at hard labor. R. Strachan for the crown. J. U. Prieur for the defence.

Queen vs. T. W. Hodgins. The prisoner was charged with procuring drugs with intent to cause an abortion. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the judge alone. The case for the crown was concluded on Tuesday. Now witnesses were called for the defence. Judgment was reserved until Wednesday. R. Strachan for the crown. S. S. Taylor for the private prosecutor. C. L. Shaw for the defence.

On Wednesday judgment was given in the case of the Queen vs. Hodgins in favor of prisoner, who was accordingly discharged.

Civil business was then taken up.

W. S. Robertson vs. John Cameron and A. Macdonald. Action on account of $37. Judgment for plaintiff with reduced costs. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. R. Strachan for defendant.

McKeracher vs. McPherson. Action on account. Postponed until next court at request of defence on payment of costs of the day. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. G. A. Watson for defence.

McKeracher vs. Hodgins. Action for damages. Judgment for plaintiff for $316 and costs. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. C. L. Shaw for defendant.

Re Joseph Adams estate, petition for discharge of guardian and passing of accounts, granted. S. S. Taylor for petition.

Hayes vs. Lamont and others and E. F. Timm garnishee. Application by plaintiff to close garnishee proceedings and for costs granted. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. J. U. Prieur for defendant.

Jarcaden, Peck & Co. vs. Laboucan. Judgment for $215. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. C. L. Shaw for defendant.

Harris Son & Co. vs. Robertson. Judgment for defendant and costs. S. S. Taylor for defendant.

Thursday's proceedings:

McCallum vs. Robertson. Action to recover the sum of $150 with interest from 1886 due on account of an execution held by plaintiff against the estate of W. F. Butler, alleged to have been received by the defendant as deputy sheriff and not accounted for. Defence claimed payment of the amount due to McCallum's then solicitor G. A. Watson. G. A. Watson as witness for plaintiff produced a document as copy.

Edmonton 21 Aug. '88.

McCallum vs. Butler.

Received from W. S. Robertson, Deputy Sheriff one hundred and fifty dollars and 98 cents in above suit.

(Sd) G. A. Watson.

The above is a copy of receipt given by George A. Watson to me this day but no money was paid by me to him and the receipt is merely formal and to enable me to make my return on the execution against goods in the suit of McCallum vs. Butler.

(Sd) W. S. Robertson, Deputy Sheriff

The judge directed that the matter be settled out of court. R. Strachan for plaintiff. S. S. Taylor for defendant.

The Morden Mirror says: A mind or thought reader, a young Englishman, apparently just out, has struck our town, and he has actually succeeded in transmuting himself. On Sunday last, at a visitor's house, he was showing what he could accomplish to some others, when he, so already said, became transmutated. After a time he regained consciousness, but he immediately got off into a trance. He was brought to town on Monday morning, his body being as stiff and rigid as a wooden log, and with the exception of the beating of the heart, he was to all appearance quite dead. However, Dr. McConnell was called in, and in a few hours he came around, and thus relieved the anxiety of a large number of people who thought him dead. Altogether he was in a trance nearly twenty hours.

One result of the Northern Pacific having formally assumed full control of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba lines will be to make Winnipeg the headquarters not only of the N. P. lines in Manitoba but also those lead- ing from Duluth and north of the main line. This will cause an increase of the working force in Winnipeg.
